U. N. Seeks Vote Today On Call To Free 11 Airmen

Only Russian Bloc Opposes Move; Malik Blasts 'Intervention'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Assembly pushed for a vote today on demands by the United States and its 15 Korean War Allies that Red China yield up 11 American airmen held as spies. Western diplomats predicted at least 45 of the 60 member states would rally behind the call.

Weary delegates prepared to resume debate on the resolution after two meetings yesterday, the second lasting until nearly midnight. Hopeful of clearing up the item before the Assembly goes into its final scheduled week, they planned to remain in session until they reach a ballot on the 16-power resolution condemning imprisonment of the men and calling on Secretary General Dag Hammarskold to work for their release.

Only Reds Oppose

Delegates anticipated the resolution would encounter opposition only from the five-nation Soviet bloc, which has fought it bitterly. A scattering of Arab-Asian states were expected to abstain.

Observers believed the resolution could have mustered 55 favorable votes if it had not included condemnation of Red China. This caused apprehension among Arab-Asian nations with little desire to go on record denouncing Peiping.

Syria reflected this feeling in yesterday's debate. Her chief delegate, Ahmed Shukairi, said that he favored the speedy release of the airmen but saw little point in denouncing the Chinese if the Assembly sincerely wanted to win the Americans freedom.

Russia's Jacob Malik spearheaded the bitter Soviet bloc attack, angrily denouncing the complaint as "shameful." He declared the Assembly had no right to try

Details Of Prisoner Board To Be Settled

LISBON — Boarding arrangements for 18 prisoners at five municipal jails will be discussed by county commissioners and a delegation from the Columbiana County Mayors' Association tonight at 7:30 at the courthouse, Mayor Wilbur Warren, president, said today.

Prisoners taken from Mahoning County Jail Wednesday were locked up at East Liverpool, Salem, East Palestine, Lisbon and Leetonia jails, but commissioners and municipalities have not finally agreed on "certain details," the president said.

Mayor Warren pointed out there are many problems connected with keeping these prisoners, such as financing, responsibility in case of fire and sickness and police authority.

"Most city and village jails are accustomed to handling only prisoners convicted of minor offenses, but many of the new inmates are more dangerous," the mayor said.

Salem jail has two prisoners, Lisbon, three; Leetonia, two; East Palestine, three; and East Liverpool, eight.

The mayors consented to house the evicted men as a last-minute measure when commissioners found no other place for the prisoners, ordered removed by Mahoning authorities to permit razing of their jail.

"We want to cooperate 100 per cent with the commissioners," Mayor Warren said, "and this meeting is to iron out technicalities of the agreement."

East Palestine jail received its third prisoner yesterday after a Wellsville man was convicted of non-support in Juvenile Court and sentenced to one year in jail by Judge Louis Tobin. He is Victor Gaetano, 29-year-old father of a five-year-old boy.

GOP Wants Ike To Run Again

Official Says Party United By McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Millikin (R-Colo) said today there already is an "irresistable demand" among Republicans for President Eisenhower to become a candidate again in 1956.

Millikin, who heads the Conference of All GOP Senators, discounted in an interview any major split in the party because of the attack by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) on the President—a view generally shared by other Republicans and by some Democrats.

"I don't expect any split in the Republican party and neither do I expect any third party movement," Millikin said. "There already is an irresistible demand that the President be a candidate for another term and I don't think he can be beaten if he runs."

Assailed By McCarthy

'Burned Out' Family In Temporary Homes

Members of the Ernest W. Hughes family have taken up temporary living quarters with relatives in the area following the fire which caused about $3,000 damage to their home in Negley early on Thursday morning.

Mrs. Hughes, 33, and her seven children fled from their home in nearly freezing temperatures after the blaze was discovered at about midnight when one of the children, Judy, 11, was awakened by smoke.

Mrs. Hughes was attempting to fight the fire with water when two neighbors, Howard May and Mrs. Maude Murphy arrived. Twenty-five members of the Negley volunteer Fire Department reached the scene a few minutes later and were able to save part of the home.

The blaze caused extensive damage to the kitchen and several bedrooms. Included in the loss were nearly all the family's clothing and some items of furniture. The damages were partially recovered by insurance.

Hughes, a driver for the Kenmar Mfg. Co. of East Palestine, had left home several hours earlier with a load of furniture. He was located in Medina, and returned to his home immediately.

Don Mahon, chief of the Negley fire department, said the blaze apparently started in a flue near the kitchen ceiling. The house was heated by an oil furnace.

The Hughes' other children are Bobby, 3; Rocky, 4; Susan, 5; Mary Ellen, 6; Patty, 9 ;and Dick, 13.

Fred Leland Bowman, age 10, of RD 4, Lisbon, and Nancy Ward, 10, of RD 2, Salem, won the two top prizes in the Salem News sponsored "Little People's" coloring contest.

Eighty-two honorable mention awards also were made to boys and girls under age 11 who were eligible for coloring the Little People's drawings which appeared in The News.

Fred's entry was done in oil paints and the judges, Mrs. Lee Pelley and Mr. Robert Alexander of the Salem public school art staff, were favorably impressed with his handiwork.

Nancy Ward's coloring was done with crayons. Most of the 317 children who entered the contest used crayons. Two used water colors.

The two top entries have been forwarded to Cleveland for competition in the national contest.

Fred, the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bowman, residing a mile west of Lisbon on Rt. 30, is in the fifth grade at Lisbon McKinley School. He has two sisters and three brothers.

He first tried water colors but obtained extra copies of the News and tried his hand then at oils. He has been playing the piano for two years and recently composed a small song.

She sings in the Winona Methodist church junior choir. She has four brothers and her hobby is taking care of her pet chickens.

She was presented with a life-size doll and Fred received an Erector set by the News for their achievements.

Citizens Gas Group Organizes

Keller Heads Fight Against Rate Boost

The newly-formed citizens gas users association has named Harrison Keller, president of the Salem China Co. as chairman.

This organization was formed primarily to oppose a request made by the Natural Gas Co. of W. Va. for permission to increase gas rates charged by it for natural gas sold to its field and industrial customers in Ohio. This request has been filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Members of the association feel that there are many inequalities in the proposed rate structure and therefore requested a hearing with the commission in order that they may present their views.

The association is composed of the industrial gas consumers in this area being serviced by the Natural Gas Co. This includes Salem, Alliance, Minerva, Sebring, Leetonia, Columbiana, Malvern, Lisbon, Summitville and Scio.

Encouragement and financial support has been given to the citi-

Sheppard Tells Of Being Hit In Wife's Bedroom

Traces Events Night Marilyn Was Slain; Testifies Of Intruder

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Samuel Sheppard testified today that he was struck down from behind in his slain wife's bedroom by the mystery assailant he says killed her.

After long preliminary questioning by defense attorney William J. Corrigan, the 30-year-old osteopath arrived at the point where he fell asleep early on the morning of July 4 while his wife went on to bed.

"The first thing I can recall," Dr. Sheppard began, "was hearing Marilyn call out my name once or twice, followed by moans, loud moans, and noises of some sort.

"I was awakened by her cries and in my drowsy recollection decided to go to Marilyn which I did as soon as I could navigate. My subconscious feeling was that Marilyn was experiencing convulsion as she had earlier in her pregnancy

Visualized Form

"I ascended the stairway and went into her room and I felt I could visualize a form of some kind with a light top.

"I felt I was struck from behind and my recollection was cut off.

"The next thing I remember doing is a very vague recollection of coming to, right next to Marilyn's bed, facing south. I recall vaguely recognizing my wallet on the floor beside me."

"Was there any way to determine the length of time between the time you were knocked out and the time you came to?" asked Corrigan.

"No, sir," replied Dr. Sheppard. "No way I know of."

Then he identified the wallet when it was presented to him and a recess interrupted his recital at that point.

Earlier Sheppard, on the second day of his testimony, said today he held his wife, Marilyn, in his arms a few hours before she was murdered.

They were sitting in the same chair, watching television, the accused man said.

His attorney, William J. Corrigan, led him quickly to the events of the night of Saturday, July 3. Marilyn was beaten to death some-

Three persons were injured and two arrested as a result of three traffic mishaps that occurred in Salem vicinity yesterday.

Gordon L. Roberts, 16, of MC 1, Salem, was cited for driving left of center after his car collided with an approaching vehicle on Route 62, two miles west of Salem at 5:35 p.m.

Patrolmen said Roberts was treated by a local doctor for lacerations of the head and lip. His car and the other vehicle operated by Clyde W. Hendershott, 30, of RD 2, Salem were badly damaged.

1 of 2 Abductors Nabbed; Patrol Combing Woods

Pair Seized Salesman, Took Him On 200-Mile Ride In His Auto

NORTH JACKSON — State highway patrolmen tramped through a swirling snowstorm early today in pursuit of one of two men who abducted an elderly Harrisburg, Pa., salesman and kept him prisoner in his own car during a wild 200-mile ride.

The victim escaped from the men near here last night, and one of the pair was captured by an auxiliary patrolman applicant.

Patrolmen said the other man was armed with two pistols, and warned motorists not to pick up hitchhikers.

Carrying guns and several walkie-talkie radios, 36 patrolmen were combing a wooded area near North Jackson, in search of the fugitive. For a time, at least, they were able to follow his tracks in the snow

Abducted Yesterday

The victim, thin and wary as he answered questions in the patrol's nearby Canfield Barracks, was 70-year-old Jessie Bishop. He said he was abducted at 9 a.m. yesterday while on his way to work at Bowman's Department Store in Harrisburg. He had just parked his car when the men jumped in and took him prisoner, he told patrolmen.

Captured at North Jackson, where Bishop made his escape, was a man the patrol identified as Carlos Stenders, 40, of Newark, N. J., Stenders, dark-haired and swarthy, speaking in a broken accent, said he could identify his companion only as "Bob." Patrolman Paul Grimes quoted him as saying he and "Bob" met a week ago in Baltimore, Md., and decided to rob someone and steal a car.

Bishop First Victim

Bishop was their first victim after this alliance, Grimes said.

"Bob" was described as a dark complexioned man of about 40, five-feet, one inch tall, weighing about 160 pounds. He was wearing a light topcoat and a grey felt hat.

Bishop made his escape from the car after the pair stopped at North Jackson for coffee. He said they had forced him to drink a pint of liquor—"I think it was doped"—and thought he was unconscious when they left the car.

They walked into a dairy store and Bishop immediately grabbed the ignition keys and ran into a nearby house. He told his story

2 Salem Men Hurt In Car-Train Crash

Two Salem area men were injured when the car in which they were riding slid into the side of an Erie Railroad train late yesterday afternoon on the Western Reserve Road.

The driver of the auto, Myron Kelly, 47, of 1265 Mound St. was arrested by state highway patrolmen for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Taken to Youngstown's South Side Hospital were Perry Robb, 74, of 629 E. 5th St. and C. Elmer Anderson, 62, of Pine Lake Road. Anderson was treated for contusions of the left thigh and released; Robb is being held for examination. Hospital authorities said he might have a fractured cheek bone.

Patrolmen said that Kelly, east bound on Western Reserve Road, was unable to stop and slid sideways into the Niles - Lisbon freight at the crossing three-tenths of a mile west of Route 46. The mishap occurred at 6 p.m. yesterday.

According to patrolmen the rear and left side of Kelley's 1951-model car were demolished.

Writer Selects List Of 10 Top Business Events Of '54

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—It's open season for "the big 10" — the 10 best movies of the year, the 10 dames who spend the most (of their husband's money) on clothes. And so, here's a nomination — just one man's opinion — for the 10 top business events of 1954:

1. The recession. Its course was watched anxiously by both businessmen and their employes from the first worrisome months of the year through the somewhat tentative leveling off at midyear and its apparent death early in the fall.

2. The bull market. The year-long climb of stock prices, and particularly their spectacular post-election spurt onto new high ground since the 1929 debacle fascinated most readers. By year's end bullish sentiment had brought the public into the market and made stock prices table conversation again after years of relative indifference by the average citizen.

3. Battles for proxies. Robert R. Young's successful wresting of the New York Central from what he called "Wall Street banker domination" was watched from one end of the country to the other. Patrick B. McGinnis won the New Haven in a somewhat similar proxy battle. And at yearend Louis E. Wolfson was slugging it out with Chairman Sewell Avery for control of the Montgomery Ward mail order house.

4. The Detroit story. The auto companies are out with new high-style models for a race that may settle the question of how many, and who, will survive. Early in the year a knock - down and drag-out fight between Ford and General Motors for sales leadership sent Chrysler reeling and sent the little independents scurrying to the shelter of mergers.

5. Coffee. Rarely has the American housewife got so mad as last June when — with the cost of the brew already more than doubled since the war — Brazil hiked the price once more. Imports of coffee dropped off drastically in the summer. Brazil had to back water, and prices fell here—but not very far, at that.

6. Farm prices. The government lowered dairy supports. Butter prices dropped, and sales went up. The battle over farm rice supports in general threatens to break out again in the new Congress. The role of the middleman in food prices is also duee for an airing.

7. Taxes. Business profits stayed high this year largely because of the death of the excess profits tax. Cuts in excise levies helped sales in a number of industries. The drop in individual income withholding taxes boosted consumer purchasing power. Detailed revision of the over - all tax law gave many firms a break.

8. The building boom. Homes, office buildings, stores sprang up at a rate that confounded the experts and worried anyone given to fretting about the growing mountain of public and private debt. But the face of America was changing fast, and the living habits of Americans with it.

9. Mergers. The greatest rush in years to make big ones out of little ones had the business world whirling, the stock market gyrating, and the U.S. justice department restudying the anti-trust laws. Bethlehem Steel and Youngstown's proposed marriage, and a series of mergers in the languishing textile world caught most attention, along with the auto get-togethers.

10. Antitrust suits. When a federal judge the other day threw out the suit against DuPont, General Motors and U.S. Rubber, many businessmen thought it might lead to an agonizing reappraisal in Washington of both the law and the justice department's attitude toward the issue of bigness in business.

U. S. May Increase Arms Expenditures In 1955

CHICAGO (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said last night military spending in 1954 was reduced almost three billion dollars but because of the need for new weapons the estimated 1955 budget of $29,600,000,000 may be raised to 34 billions

He told the Illinois Manufacturers Assn. more and more military spending would go toward planes that will fly faster and higher and carry heavier loads.

But, he said, armed might alone won't solve world problems and the United States must undersand the importance of getting along with other free peoples.

A contractor had an attachment writ on the automobile, a 1953 model, and Judge Snell ordered it sold at sheriff's auction unless it is sold for payment of the debt.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Nicholas Lynch Jr., American Legion national field service director charged here yesterday that a "subtle flank attack" is being made on the "entire structure of veterans benefits."

Speaking at the Legion Auxiliary Rehabilitation Conference, Lynch said that the flank attack has been carried out through a reduction of budget allowances for veterans benefits. He said the cuts have forced personnel layoffs and a reduction in available beds in Veterans Administration hospitals

Also, he charged, many veterans "forego treatment rather than go through the fog and mess of red tape" under present conditions.

Progressive Moderation

It is too soon to be sure that President Eisenhower coined a phrase when he told a press conference the American people seemed to want a "progressive moderate" in the White House.

But it is not too soon to be sure that someone needs to coin a phrase to offset confusion created by some other words and phrases in politics.

The key to the Eisenhower phrase is the word "moderate."

Moderation has been the characteristic of the Eisenhower administration. It has been a thorn in the side of extremists at both ends of the political spectrum.

Extremists hate moderates and the idea of moderation. They are baffled by the fact the United States has an affinity for moderation; that the American "middle class" has become so powerful in economics and politics that it is no longer at the mercy of extremists.

This is a matter that has nothing to do with partisan politics under the two-party system, because both major parties live with the same facts.

Moderates are strong in the Republican party, and they are strong in the Democratic party. And in both parties they are under relentless pressure by extremists, who would like to push them aside.

President Eisenhower is not a professional politician. He is new to the trade.

But he is not new to the trade of appraising human nature. When he says he thinks Americans want a "progressive moderate" in the presidency, he is staking his judgment against the opinion of every extremist who cannot abide the idea of leadership that gives people what they want instead of what some extremist thinks they should have.

Rights of Humans

Reading the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted six years ago by the United Nations General Assembly, an American notes it is a restatement of his own country's Bill of Rights.

As time passes, the Universal Declaration covering the rights of humans throughout the earth—may be cherished as intensely as Americans cherish the charter of their guaranteed freedom from the indignity of tyranny.

On Dec. 10, the anniversary of the Declaration's adoption, it has become the custom to think about the possibility that tyrants some day may be routed from human affairs by universal consent and international cooperation. It is possible.

This is the brightest promise of eventual peace — this longing of men and women of all nationalities for security in the rights bestowed on them by God but denied to them by other men. When all the tyrants have been overcome, human rights will be secure. There will be peace among men, because there will be among men the natural good will that is their birthright, instead of hatreds and prejudices foisted on them by bad leaders.

If you believe this is a worthy aim for the human race, read the Bill of Rights again. Imagine a world in which all humans lived under the same guarantees.

That is the significance of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. It is a standard of achievement for mankind.

Gadsden's Side

In the ruckus that has been blown up by Follansbee, W. Va., over sale of Follansbee Steel Corp. to Republic Steel for removal to Gadsden, Ala., nothing had been heard of Gadsden's side of the story.

But it has a story, and The Gadsden Times is making sure the story gets attention.

Gadsden says it concedes Follansbee has a right to fight for the steel plant that is its principal employer and taxpayer. But it wants to make sure the fight stays clean.

It warns Follansbee not to get involved in Washington politics in its attempt to block a transaction that would be to Gadsden's advantage if it were carried out. In that event, Gadsden would have to get involved in Washington politics, too, and The Times says it feels sure Alabama politicians would be more than a match for West Virginia's politicians.

While this is hardly a tribute to Alabama politicians, on the face of it, the Gadsdenites do have a point. The sale of a steel company's equipment is not properly a political issue. It is a business transaction. But if politicans get into it, becames a political fight.

And no one should sell Alabama short in a political fight.

Maybe some of the folks who advise us to breath through the nose simply wants us to keep our mouths shut.

An astronomer says the sun will be cold in 15 million years. Add that to all the other things you shouldn't worry about.

Things sort of even up. Some married men give dictation all day long and listen to it all evening.

'Censure' In Retrospect

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Senate Sets Judicial Precedence In McCarthy Case

Long after the tumult of these years has died away and those who are impassioned now in their dislike of one senator have passed from the scene, there will be doubts expressed whether the so - called "censure" case against Sen. McCarthy was handled by the United States Senate in a judicial manner, and whether indeed the basic principles of justice in the American system were not violated.

The Supreme Court of the United States 30 days ago handed down a decision which was not reported in the newspapers generally because it concerned a matter hardly of national news importance at the time.

The viewpoint then expressed by Justice Frankfurter in behalf of the majority of the Supreme Court applies by analogy to the attempt to impose last week what amounts to a legal censure in the Senate—a punishment which was abandoned finally in favor of an expression of opinion by the Senate known as "condemnation."

The Senate proceedings, however, were conducted throughout on the basis of a "censure" charge. There had been much talk about the "judicial manner" in which the problem was handled by members of the Senate known as the Watkins committee. Also President Eisenhower thought so much of the work of that committee that last week he singled out its chairman for special praise, and extended it publicly.

THE SUPREME COURT dealt with the principle when it reversed last month a case against a lawyer who had been charged by the judge with contempt because of harsh language he used in the court in a colloquy with the judge. This writer interpolates, in parentheses, the references to the Senate. This is how the opinion by Justice Frankfurter then reads:

"The pith of this extraordinary power to punish without the formalities required by the Bill of Rights for the prosecution of federal crimes generally, is that the necessities of the administration of justice require such summary dealings with obstructions to it. It is a mode of vindicating the majesty of law, in its active manifestations, against obstruction and outrage.

"The power thus entrusted to a judge (the Senate) is wholly unrelated to his sensibilities be they tender or rugged.

"But judges (senators) are also human, and may, in a human way, quite unwittingly identify offense to self with obstruction to law. Accordingly the Supreme Court has deemed it important that district judges (individual members of the Senate) guard against this easy confusion by not sitting in judgment upon misconduct of counsel (a member of the Senate) where the contempt charge is entangled with the judge's (senator's) personal feeling against the lawyer (another senator)."

The Supreme Court of the United States is here expounding an important principle of justice which applies wherever there are tribunals which seek to satisfy what the court in this case described as the necessity at least for the "appearance of justice."

WAS THE SENATE sitting as a judicial or semi - judicial body? The record as expounded by those who participated in the proceedings is contradictory. Sen. Watkins in presiding over the select committee at the outset said the regulations adopted for the conduct of the hearings were "for the purpose of insuring a judicial hearing and a judicial atmosphere."

Yet when the impartiality of some of the members of the committee was challenged because of previous public statements of alleged prejudice, the Utah senator upheld their right to sit on the committee just the same.

But Sen. Lehman took the opposite view. In the debate in the Senate on the "censure" proceedings, he declared:

"Th illusion has developed — I think it is an illusion — that this is a court of law, and that we are judges, bound by rules of evidence and of procedures applicable in a court of law. The effect of this illusion is to make each of us fearful lest we violate rules and procedures to which many of us are strangers, in our desire to do justice and to assume fair play."

It is clear from the statements made by other senators, too, that the debate was largely political. In fact the roll call showed the Democratic party voting as a unit. The Republican party was divided and some members, including the defendant, showed personal feelings due to provocation.

Several senators said privately and some publicly that they were voting for censure because of personal resentment.

THERE IS NO tribunal to which a senator who is "censured" can appeal for a reversal of judgment if the evidence he wishes to supply is ignored or his counsel is refused a full opportunity to argue the case before a Senate committee. These would constitute grounds for reversal in a court—but not in the Senate which does as it pleases.

Because no legal action can be taken if the Senate is guilty of injustice, and because prejudiced jurors — indeed the complainants and prosecutors may themselves sit in judgment and vote a censure proceeding is in a figurative sense a "lynching bee." For a senator can be punished without a fair trial. He can even be expelled apparently without being assured of an unprejudiced jury of senators.

That's the precedent written by the special session of the Senate last week when, to use the Supreme Court's language, those who sit as judges become "entangled with personal feeling."

Hernia Treatment

Several questions regarding hernia have been brought up by a recent correspondent which I shall attempt to answer in this column.

Dr. Jordan

He says that he is 60, and has had a hernia on his left side for several years. He has received literature from a hernia control service and wonders if this will bring permanent control since he is not too keen on an operation.

One cannot give a specific reply to these questions without knowing more concerning the degree of the hernia, the physical condition of the patient and his occupation. The question of hernia or rupture, which is the same thing, can however be discussed in general and may throw some light on this correspondent's questions.

A rupture is a weakening of the structures which are supposed to hold the organs in place, usually the abdominal organs. It is believed that this weakness is more or less inborn, though it may never show up unless some heavy strain has been put on the weakened tissue by lifting something too heavy or some similar injury.

But once a rupture has developed, it is likely to get gradually worse and may even get so bad that some of the organs lying in the ruptured sac can become strangulated and cause serious complications.

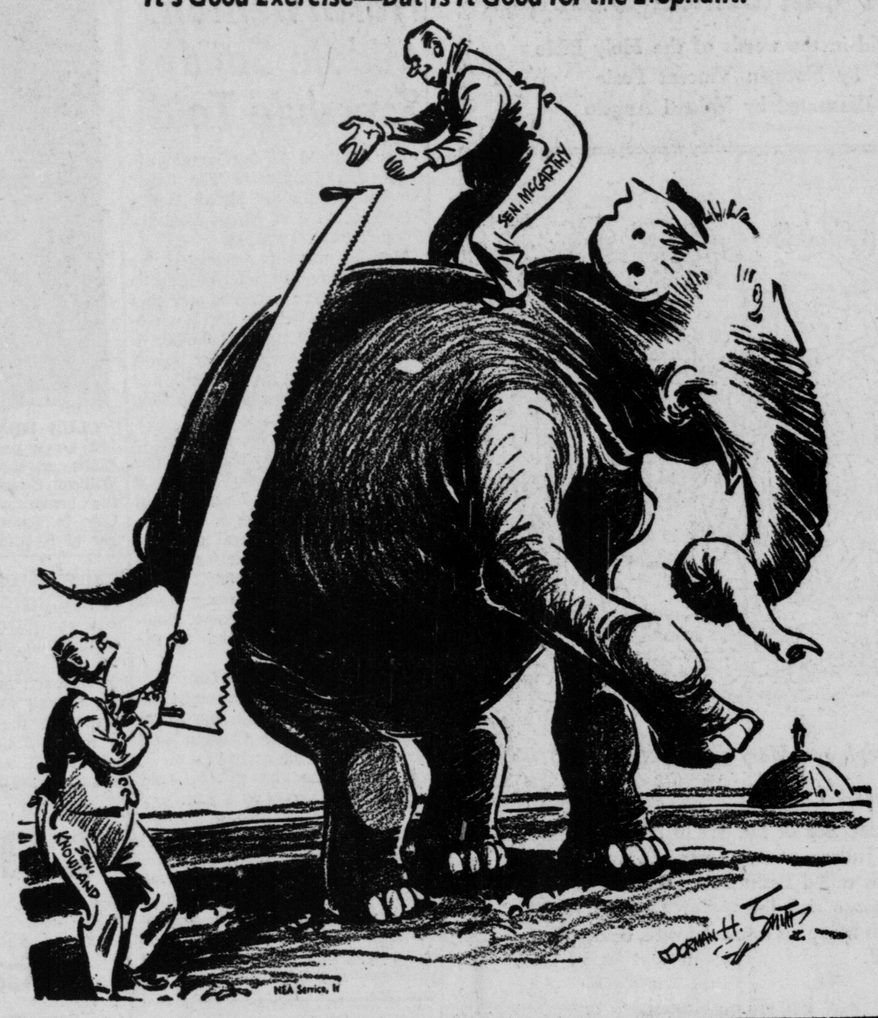
There are three possible lines of treatment for a hernia. The simplest is to wear a truss or support which may keep the sac and abdominal contents more or less in place. This can be reasonably satisfactory for a person who does not do heavy labor, though there is always some danger that a sudden strain may cause serious trouble. Also it is a nuisance. Nevertheless, there are many people who can wear a truss for many years with fairly good success.

Some years ago the injecti on treatment was suggested for hernia. The purpose of injection is to irritate the inside of the hernial sac so that a firm scar will form at the point where the hernia is bulging and force back the contents of the sac where it belongs.

This method requires several treatments and carries some risk. Also the scar tissue formed is not always strong enough to bring permanent relief. Although the injection treatment still has some supporters, it is probaby not used as much as it used to be and is not as desirable as surgery in most cases.

Surgery is the most effective treatment. By this means the contents of the sac can be put back in place and a firm covering built up at the weak point so that the organs are kept where they belong. The hernia occasionally returns after such operations, often because of the carelessness of the patient, but modern methods of operating have improved the technique so much that fewer and fewer recurrences develop.

It's Good Exercise—But Is It Good for the Elephant?



Imposed Conformity

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Sen. Mike Mansfield is generally regarded as a Liberal with a big L. A Liberal used to be defined as a person who believed in an increase in the liberties of the individual man. David Hume, the philosopher who so affected the thought which brought our country into existence, defined liberty as follows:

Sokolsky

"By liberty, then, we can only mean a power of acting or not acting, according to the determinations of the will; this is, if we choose to remain at rest, we may; if we choose to move, we also may. Now this hypothetical liberty is universally allowed to belong to every one who is not a prisoner and in chains . . ."

When therefore Sen. Mansfield would deprive a retired Army or Navy officer of the right to speak his mind or join a cause, of his own free will and at his own risk, he would deprive him of his liberty.

EDMUND BURKE made the statement that "among a people generally corrupt, liberty cannot long exist," which is why the Marxists find themselves in difficulties because they have permitted themselves to be corrupted by enslavement to a discipline and a conspiracy and reject the doctrine of free will by the acceptance of mental and moral regimentation. It is precisely this regimentation that must be fought off in the United States.

Sen. Mansfield takes the position that military officers have been "taken care of" from the time they enter West Point or Annapolis until they are buried in Arlington National Cemetery. He said: "They should not lend their good names and prestige to movements which are contrary to the best interests of the United States."

He would deprive such men of their liberty and force them to conform to some dictated but temporary view because they once were employed by the government of the United States. Such a position makes employment a liability because it reduces such a person to secondary citizenship.

Can anyone imagine Gen. Douglas MacArthur being silenced because he was for half a century employed in the United States Army?

IN THE MATTER of John Paton Davies, Jr., it does not seem to be reasonable that the State Department should withhold the money due him — or for that matter of anyone else — unless he signs a contract gagging him. Is money worth that much? He has the right, as a person and a citizen, to devote his life to the defense of his integrity. We grant that right to a murderer, a rapist, a thief, a spy. Shall we refuse that right to a man because he was in the employ of the State Department?

Let us consider two hypothetical cases:

1. Suppose John Paton Davies, Jr., wishes to fight his case on the thesis that he was asked to do certain things by the CIA or by the State Department and that whatever he did was only in fulfillment of his duty.

Shall he be deprived of the right to try to prove such a defense? Is he not entitled to document such a case if he can? Is he forever to bear the stigma of rejection without the opportunity to clear himself?

I do not know whether Davies can clear himself, but he is entitled to the possibility.

2. Suppose Alger Hiss wishes to prove that he was not a Communist, not a spy for Soviet Russia, but that he served his government in a special manner at the request, let us say, of the President of the United States.

I DO NOT KNOW that there is the slightest truth in such an hypothesis or that Alger Hiss wants to do anything of the sort. But suppose he does, has anyone the moral right to deprive him of the freedom to fight for his name, his place in the world, even to his dying day, only because he was employed by the government of the United States?

If imposed conformity is wrong for a university professor, it is wrong for a general, an admiral or anybody. If imposed conformity is wrong for those who call themselves liberals or progressives, it is wrong for those who call themselves conservatives or moderates or nothing at all. If it is wrong for anybody, it is wrong for everybody

It is more important that we have overt differences of opinion with ample opportunity for their expression than that we suffer from the suppressive effects of conformity and unity.

When we have an intellectual goose-step in this country, it may eliminate all the yak - yak of contentiousness, but we shall no longer be a thinking or a free people.

We shall worship those in office as the German people cringed before any man in a uniform.

No Room At The Inn

By O. M. MARASHIAN

There will be no room at the inn again this Christmas in Bethlehem.

But the first of thousands of Christmas pilgrims and tourists are pouring into the Holy Land anyway, despite the continuing tension along the armistice line dividing Arabs and Jews.

Like the days of Joseph and Mary, the roads are unsafe and the journey is hard. And like the days of Joseph and Mary, there isn't a place to sleep in Bethlehem, in Jerusalem's walled old city or the neighboring villages.

Harassed travel agents, doing a thriving business in the otherwise unstable and lifeless old city, made Christmas reservations as early as last Easter. They have been turning down requests for reservations since last October and have suggested Easter reservations instead.

There are accommodations for only 1,500 pilgrims in Arab-held Jerusalem and the Christian villages near Bethlehem. Tourist hotels have only 200 available beds. Most of the pilgrims, especially those coming in organized church groups, are being housed in schools, convents, and special "hospices" built by religious organizations in the Holy Land.

Pilgrims from faraway places who insist on attending the midnight services this Christmas will be brought to Bethlehem by buses and cars from as far away as Jordan, and taken back the same night. Hundreds of Arab Christians, including those on a 36-hour pass from Israel, will stay with relatives and friends. Hundreds more will not sleep at all Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

As usual, nearly half the pilgrims are Americans — many of them working in the oil fields of Arabia or with Point Four in the Middle East or the naval and air bases in the Mediterranean. The Pilgrims also include Britons from the Middle East headquarters now stationed in Cyprus or other military installations in Jordan and Iraq. Organized church groups are mostly from France, Italy and Spain.

Christmas is mostly a Western Christian pilgrimage. Few Eastern Christians visit Bethlehem at Christmas. To these ancient Christian communities scattered all over the Moslem Middle East, the big day of Christianity is Easter.

Seventy per cent of the pilgrims are now airbourne. Gone are the days of weary camel caravans and even long train and bus rides. Flying to Beirut, Damascus, and Cairo, the pilgrims are being brought into the Holy Land by two Lebanese and two Jordanian airlines and chartered planes — a shuttle service to Arab-held Jerusalem's recently improved and enlarged Kalandia airport. Others are going by ship to Beirut and then taking the land route through Syria and Jordan, making a detour all along the armistice line between Israel and the Arabs.

The Arab-Israeli war virtually halted the Holy Land pilgrimages in 1947, 1948, and 1949. But since the armistice, tourists and pilgrims have been coming in greater numbers each year. There were 35,000 during 1951, 42,000 in 1952, and 60,000 last year.

The increasing tourist trade has been a boon to the local travel agencies and hotels which have sprung up in Arab-held Jerusalem since the end of the Palestine war. The Jordan government now has a special tourist department, since tourism is he primary source of revenue in impoverished Jerusalem and Bethlehem. It tries to protect the tourist from swindlers and helps make life easier for him.

If you insist on going around corners on two wheels, bicycles are a lot cheaper than autos.

Once Over

Christmas Of The Captives

This should be a Chrismas dedicated to "the Thirteen." . . . The Christmas when thoughts in every home, church and shopping throng should be of American servicemen known to be condemned to the bleak horror of Yuletide in Asiatic prison cells. They hear no voices of children, sense no perfume of pine and spruce, know no streets full of Christmas illuminations. "Holy Night" comes to them from no chapel, home or store window. And this may be true of many others reported missing.

"Merry Christmas" falls on them like a mockery "Peace on earth, good will toward men" reaches them only as a far-off memory. How do they fare in Chinese dungeons? Does December mean anything?

Do they know the day? Are they sure of the season? If conscious of the Yuletide do they dream of Christmas days at home . . . see again in memory their first tree? . . . recall childhood days when they listened for hoofbeats on the roof and a rustle in the fireplace?

Here is a kid on the dirt-floor of a squalid Peiping prison — sentenced for life! A few years his eyes popped at the street corner Santa and he wrote letters to the North Pole and was held spellbound by the lighted Christmas tree. An American serviceman sent up for life! How long ago was it that he played with wooden soldiers, chattered over a toy-shop gun, played at make-believe warfare? This was only yesterday; yet he has known the horrors of war, been captured, tortured and thrown ino prison in hands of an enemy whose leaders are without mercy, charity or good will!

If he hears Yuletide laughter it is cruel and mocking. A guard spits in his face. Kindness is gone from the countenances he sees at the narrow slit on the wall.

Who at home this season can hear "It fell upon a midnight clear" without seeing a thin, tortured face in the narraw cell? Who can miss, framed in a holly wreath, the phantom visage of a Yankee airman, a GI, a priest or a missionary? Can grownups find real joy this Christmas of 1954 or is it only for the very young . . . the kids who read no papers, comprehend no broadcasts and have not yet sensed the world's brutality?

The Thirteen see no starlit nights, sense no shepherds in the fields, hear no sleighbells in the snow. It is hard for them to picture the Wise Men and the Magi moving toward Bethlehem in the deep silence of a magic night. But perhaps they see the crib . . . close their eyes and behold the Mother and Babe . . . Out of their merories may come the clear picture of the cattle in the stable. Their nostrils catch the odor of frankincense and myrrh . . . From afar comes a recollection of "But Mary kept all these things and pondered them in her heart." Out of the Yuletides of yesterday their memories may sustain them!

Uncle Sam is slow, there are diplomats of U. N. who debate, quibble, straddle and dodge . . . The most sickening of words "abstention" is heard . . . There are toasts in the cocktail lounges of the temple of peace. It is a Christmas blessing that The Thirteen and others do not see all of this picture. The image of the stable at Bethlehem is more real, understandable and reassuring. The Christmas prayer of all Americans is "May their Yuletide memories grow brighter in whatever darkness is theirs! It is years since they asked 'Is there a Santa Claus?' May they soon cease to ask 'IS THERE AN UNCLE SAM?'"

One of the great memories this time of year is that of a boyhood days when you tramped through the snows tnto ihe woods for holly.

This year, 1954, is seeing a pretty general return to Christmas cards of a spiritual nature . . The card showing the Magi, the Nativity and the biblical figures are having record sales . .. A big drop in the demand for "everyday life" cards is reported.

Reds Warn Of Arms Buildup

Soviets Threaten Against Arming Reich

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and France will consult soon on a reply to Russia's latest note warning of a buildup in Communist military power to counter the proposed rearmament of West Germany.

Washington officials feel the note does not really foreshadow a new Red military buildup, but that it has some propaganda purposes.

The note, given to the three Western Powers in Moscow last night, said, "The Soviet Union and other peace-loving countries will carry out all necessary measures to step up their armaments and to safeguard their security."

It also said that making West Germany a partner in the Western European defense system and a member of the North Atlantic Alliance would render the unification of Germany impossible.

Both statemenst reflect the standard Soviet policy line which was developed almost a year ago at the Berlin Big Four conference and in a subsequent series of notes to Washington, London and Paris.

For propaganda purposes, the new Soviet warning is assumed here to be aimed at creating popular uneasiness and political division over the German rearmament issue in both France and West Germany.

As to an increase in the strength of Eastern European forces, it has always been assumed here that the forces in being were about as large as the Communists could maintain and far greater than they needed for purely defensive purposes.

The belief of officials here is that Soviet government leaders are resigned to the rearmament of West Germany and that they will not in fact take any radical new measures either to oppose it or to try to offset its effect once it is actually achieved.

These officials believe that what is happening in the broad picture is the hardening of a kind of military stalemate between East and West. They think this may result in a power balance that will last for years with each side exercising reasonable restraint on the use of its forces to avoid the devastations of an atomic war.

Children Fight Threat To Kill Santa Claus

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — You can't shoot Santa Claus in Springfield.

If anyone dared, he would be tried before a jury consisting entirely of children. That's the unofficial ruling of Acting Municipal Judge Orville Wear following an advertisement in the Springfield Daily News and Sun.

The ad in the help wanted classified section said:

"I will snoot Santa Claus if I don't find something to do."

Reporters here called the number listed in the ad and talked to Ruce E. Wilson, 40-year-old bookbinder. Wilson said he had been laid off work through the Christmas holidays. He wants to earn some money to brighten his family's Christmas.

Since inserting his ad, Wilson said, he has received two calls pleading for Santa's life. Both begged, "Please don't do it."

One of the unidentified callers suggested he go to the North Pole "and I'm sure Santa will give you a job."

Tri-County Refuses To Accept Columbiana

Because of scheduling difficulties seven member schools of the Tri-County Athletic League refused to re-admit Columbiana High School in football and basketball league competition at a meeting Thursday night at Lape Hotel.

The league schools voted down Columbiana's bid to return to the Tri-County fold.

The proposal was offered by William G. Gloss, Columbiana High School superintendent, and Waldo R. Ward, faculty manager.

Columbiana has been playing in the Inter-County League since it left the Tri-County League several years ago.

Willard Webster, professor and trainer at Youngstown College, demonstrated how football and basketball injuries can be reduced and treated by proper taping.

The Tri-County League grid trophy was presented to Leetonia High School.

George Nace Jr., principal of Lisbon High School, was named chairman of a committee to revise outdated sections of the league's constitution.

to intervene in Chinese justice. He hinted the Communists would ignore any action the United Nations might take.

Men Were Uniformed

U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. accused Malik of making hollow, misleading statements in charging the airmen were spies. He declared the plane was on a legitimate mission and that the men, as uniformed military personnel, should be handed over at once under the terms of the Korean armistice.

Both British Minister of State Anthony Nutting and France's Henri Hoppenot firmly backed Lodge's stand.

Nutting said he pitied Malik for having to come before the Assembly with such a weak case and for being placed in the position of having to read out a "tissue of palpable falsehoods."

to the occupant, William Duchanois, who phoned the patrol.

In the meantime, said the patrol, Stenders and "Bob" noticed he was gone and tried to hold up another motorist, James Fercana, Jr., who had parked at the store. But Fercana leaped from the car and ran into a service station.

An applicant for the patrol's auxiliary corps entered the scene at that point. He was John Pal, 27, who dashed into a service station and borrowed the manager's gun. However, when he ran back into the street the duo had disapeared. Hailing a passing motorist he pursued the car north along Route 45 and came across Stenders walking along the highway. "Bob" had disappeared.

In minutes, state patrol cruisers arrived and the hunt began.

Bishop, a non-drinker, said the two men insisted that he drink the liquor or they would use the weapon they had pointed at him. The salesman, pretending to pass out, lay motionless on the back seat of the auto until they arrived in North Jackson.

Attempting to get money to buy gasoline, Bishop said that the pair took a valuable watch which they pawned at a gas station for five dollars. They also took his wallet containing money and personal papers.

The present membership in the association is represented by industries which consume approximately 70 per cent of the gas being supplied to industry in this area.

The firm of Woodward and Woodward at Columbiana has been engaged by the association to present its claims before the commission, probably within 30 days.

An executive committee has been named by the association. This is composed of a representative from each community in the district. The local member of this committee is Roy Fennema of the E. W. Bliss Co.

Kickoff Meeting Held For 1955 Polio Drive

LISBON — A kickoff meeting for the 1955 March of Dimes drive in Columbiana County was held at Hotel Wick Thursday night.

County secretary Mrs. Winifred Byers of Salem, of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, reported that $12,415 was furnished from the county fund last year to care for polio patients. This included medical attention and supplying braces, special shoes, crutches and wheelchairs.

Dr. George B. Pantera, county health commissioner, said that if the couny residents had to pay for the 6,356 CC's of gamma globulin given to 541 polio contacts the past season it would have cost about $14,809, based on prices quoted by a wholesale supply house. The serum was furnished free on request by the National Polio Foundation.

Last year $34,121 was donated in the January drive and $5,018 in the emergency summer drive.

Sheppard

time after 12:30 on the morning of the fourth.

Sheppard described a relaxed evening which began with dinner with his neighbors, Mr. and Mr. Donald Ahern. After dinner, he said, the two couples went into his living room and began watching television.

Corrigan asked him where he was sitting.

"I remember sitting in one of the chairs in the living room with Marilyn," the doctor testified. "We were in the same chair, sitting quite close by necessity, watching television."

He said Mrs. Ahern made some remark "that we weren't the only ones who were in love," and that she went and sat in her husband's lap.

A few moments later, Sheppard testified, his wife, who was four months pregnant, said her position in the chair hurt her back. When she got up, he said, he lay down on a couch on his stomach.

Then, Sheppard continued, he fell asleep. He could not fix the time of this.

Sheppard again wore a dark suit, white shirt and a dark blue knitted tie. Like his first day on the stand, he appeared to be calm and he testified in a low, even voice.

The courtroom once more was jammed.

This is the climax of his long trial on a charge of murdering his wife.

His life may depend on what he says today, and how he says it, and the effect of his words on the jury. He is testifying now in his own defense.

When he finishes, three state's attorneys will be waiting to cross-examine him, to attack his story. The prosecution alleges that Sheppard killed his wife, and that his affairs with other women impelled him to the crime.

Sheppard Blames Prowler

It was a prowler, he says, who battered Marilyn to death as she lay in bed that stormy night. And the killer, lurking in the dark, struck him down when he heard her screaming and rushed into the room., he says.

Moreover, he is telling a story of love and romance that goes all the way back to the time when he and Marilyn were high school sweethearts.

Sheppard, 30, a slim, dark-haired osteopath, testified in a high-pitched, slightly nasal voice. He gave every evidence of marble calm.

Once or twice, the shadow of a smile flickered across his face. Once or twice, he swallowed and drew a deep breath before answering a question put by his chief defense counsel, grey-maned William J. Corrigan.

Sheppard seemed eager, anxious to talk. The judge, sharp-nosed Edward Blythin, admonished him against giving "too many of these details."

LISBON CRASH REPORTED

LISBON — About $100 damage resulted to a station wagon, police reported, after it collided Thursday night at 9:50 with an auto driven by C. T. Chamberlain of Lisbon Heights at the intersection of W. Lincoln Way and S. Lincoln Ave.

Maurice Mannweiler of Canton, driver of the station wagon, attempted to pass Chamberlain at the intersection, police said.

MOTORIST IS FINED

Gay J. Conley, 40, of RD 1, Salem, was fined $15 and costs on Thursday for driving left of center after he pleaded guilty at a hearing before Mayor Wilbur Warren in Lisbon. State Highway patrolmen arrested Conley Wednesday on Rt. 164.

gratulating Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) of the committee which recommended McCarthy be censured. McCarthy said afterwards he plans to remain in the Republican party "at the present time."

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said yesterday a personal survey of Republican sentiment has convinced him that, as a result of the McCarthy criticism, 'the President will find even greater unity and support among Republican members of both the Senate and House during the next two years."

Favored One Count

Millikin, who voted in favor of one count but against the final resolution approved by the Senate to condemn McCarthy's conduct, said he agreed with Hall that there will be "a tightening and consolidation of Republican lines both in Congress and throughout the country during the next two years."

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz), who opposed the Senate rebuke of McCarthy, said he doesn't foresee "any great split' in the GOP.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), who wrote the original censure resolution said that increased support for Eisenhower among members of his own party "would seem to me to be a normal result of the kind of attack the junior senator from Wisconsin made.'

2 Indicted For Patterson Slaying

Prosecutor, Deputy Held In Vice Crime

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—A prosecuting attorney and a former sheriff's deputy who rose to power during the racketeering heyday in Phenix City have been indicted as the killers of the man whose crusade against vice had won the approval of Alabama voters.

Circuit Solicitor Arch Ferrell and former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller were held without bond on first - degree murder charges for the slaying June 18 of Atty. Gen.-nominee A. L. Patterson.

Neither indictment said which of the two men the state contends fired three .38-caliber shots into Patterson's body. Under Alabama law a murderer and an accomplice are equally guilty and can be put to death in the electric chair.

A third unidentified defendant was indicted with Ferrell and Fuller yesterday by the same grand jury which had smashed the vice empire that reigned here for many years.

An official source close to the grand jury said the third man was indicted as an accessory after the Patterson slaying.

Ferrell, 37, was described by Patterson and his associates as the "brains' of the Phenix City political organization, and Fuller, 35, was denounced by vice prosecutors as the "master." Acting Atty. Gen. Bernard Sykes said he hopes to start the trials early in January.

Patterson's crime-fighting career ended the night of June 18 when a gunman waylaid him in an alley outside his law office here. He had won the democratic nominatin for attorney general in a bitterly contested runoff primary June 1. Gamblers had spent untold thousands trying to defeat him.

In Birmingham, a grand jury found evidence of vote manipulation in an effort to count Patterson out of the race.

Patterson had announced only a few hours before his death that he would testify before the Birmingham jury.

Both Ferrell and Fller pleaded guilty four days ago to vote fraud charges here, and Fuller was fined $250, Ferrell $200.

The swaggering, 200-pound veteran chief deputy had already been convicted of taking payoff money to let a bawdy house operate unmolested during the era of easy night life in Phenix City, and was sentenced to seven years in prison.

Ferrell had acquired a reputation as a quick-tempered but keen-minded lawyer whose work in the American Legion brought him recognition as state commander in 1349. He was an infantry captain in World War II.

At one time, Ferrell and Patterson were close political friends and it was on Patterson's recommendation that former Gov. James E. Folsom appointed Ferrell circuit solicitor in 1948.

Want Ad Proves To Be Best Birthday Present

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"I loved it—I've never enjoyed anything as much in my life," said Mrs. Charlotte Lucido about her birthday present.

It wasn't a diamond, a fur coat or an expensive automobile.

It was a want ad in the Post-Dispatch last Sunday, placed among a list of special notices telling of broken homes and shattered dreams.

"I am responsible for all debts and obligations of my wife," the want ad read, "both present and future, and am more than happy to be the provider for a woman who has borne me six lovely children and, with an over abundance of love and care, has made the past 21 years of loving kindness the nicest years of my life.

"On this, the eve of our 21st wedding anniversary, I wish to publicly express my gratitude. (signed) Philip C. Lucido."

Lucido, 40, showed her the paper at her birthday dinner. "I just cried right there," Mrs. Lucido, 39, said.

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Only a week ago Mrs. Geraldine Helde was a waitress.

Today she says she has inherited $100,000. She has bought a new automobile and made reservations for a visit to Honolulu.

Mrs. Helde said she had known for some time that she would receive part of the estate of her grandfather William Kopes, a New York manufacturer, who died two years ago.

"But I had no idea it would amount to so much," she said when informed yesterday that the estate had been settled.

She came here from Cleveland after moving there from Allentown, Pa., where her husband Wyn and their two children were killed in a traffic accident earlier this year.

She's going to take her landlord C.C. Cooper and his wife and son on the trip to Honolulu Jan. 3.

Coaches Pick Jones Captain

Toledo, Kent State Get 2 On 1st String

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tom Jones, Miami University's huge senior tackle from Cincinnati—rated by many as the equal of any lineman in the country—was the standout today as The Associated Press picked its 1954 all-star team from Mid-American Conference schools.

The 6-feet 5-inch, 242-pound stalwart was the unanimous choice of the coaches in the league balloting and was awarded the team captaincy.

Three other hotshots of the champion Miami squad moved into first team berths along with Jones, with Toledo and Kent State getting two spots and Bowling Green, Marshall and Ohio University one each.

Miami's cunning and youthful mentor, Ara Parseghian, was named the conference's outstanding coach, with Jones the No. 1 lineman and Mel Triplett of Toledo the best back.

With Jones leading the way, the front wall averages 213 from end to end.

The backfield is a dream. The ball-toting corps is engineered by quarterback Dick Hunter of Miami, who completed 14 of 20 passes for 226 yards and three touchdowns and piloted the Redskins to a 477.5-yard average on the ground and in the air.

At halfback are the loop's leading scorers and ground gainers, Lo Mariano of Kent State and Erland Ahlberg of Ohio U. Mariano gained 600 yards rushing in 60 tries, and scored 38 points in five league games, while Ahlberg scored 48 in seven games as he gained 579 in 86 rushes.

Triplett, tied for third in scoring with 30 points in 5 contests, was also third in ground gained with 517 yards in 88 blasts at the line.

One of the highlights of the event was the presentation of efficiency awards to the following five members of the squad:

Jack Sanders, outstanding defensive halfback; Tony Less and Ronny Stecker, offensive backs; Vince Sevenich, defensive lineman; and Dave Gwynne, offensive lineman.

Football letters were awarded at a school assembly earlier that day.

Sherlock Holmes Evans of Akron, guest speaker, gave a talk on "Pink Pills for Pale People." Dr. Paul H. Beaver was master of ceremonies.

A social hour preceded the banquet which was held at 7 p.m. Photographs and trophies were on exhibit during the period and movies of the year's games were projected on the stage.

Red Sanders Named 'Coach Of Year' In Newspapers' Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry (Red) Sanders of unbeaten UCLA, Pacific Coast Conference football champions, was named "Coach of the Year" today in the annual poll of the New York World-Telegram and Sun and the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

The former Vanderbilt quarterback, who has coached for 26 years, received 173 first place votes out of 538 ballots cast by members of the American Football Coaches Association.

Sanders is the 20th coach to be named by the association, and he received 39 more votes than Woody Hayes, whose unbeaten Ohio State team won the Big 10 championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl to meet Southern California. UCLA played in the Rose Bowl last Jan. 1 and is ineligible to repeat.

Last year Sanders was runnerup to Jim Tatum in the poll, with 111 votes to 151 for the Maryland coach.

A Single wing master, Sanders has been a head coach since 1940, his first year at Vanderbilt. He went to UCLA in 1949, and his over-all record as head coach is 79 victories, 34 defeats and 3 ties. His UCLA record for six years is 43-12-1 and the past season is his first unbeaten one as the Uclans won 10 games.

Bob Gain Back On Browns' Roster

CLEVELAND (AP)—Big Bob Gain, a native of Akron who grew up in Weirton, W. Va., was back on the Cleveland Browns roster today after two years in the Air Force.

Gain came home last month after completing a tour of duty in Korea and Japan, where he played nine games with the Air Force's Nagoya team. He's about 10 pounds lighter than he was when he left for the service, but still tips the scales at 246.

A regular defensive tackle in 1952 until he was sidelined by a broken jaw, he will replace Don King, shifted to the injured reserve. Gain and King played together on the 1949 squad of the University of Kentucky. Gain will start by learning the middle guard position so he can spell Mike McCormack.

By putting him on the roster yesterday before Sunday's game with the Pittsburgh Steelers, the Browns made Gain eligible for a title game. The Browns can clinch their fifth division title by beating the Steelers.

Gain was the Green Bay Packers No. 1 draft choice in 1951, but played in th Canadian League that year when he was unable to come to terms. The Browns got him in a trade involving several other players.

Bill McGowan Dies Following Heart Attack

Bill McGowan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Baseball grieved today at the loss of old "No. 1," vinegary umpire Bill McGowan of the American League.

McGowan, 58, died yesterday at his home in suburban Silver Spring, Md., after his second heart attack in less than a week.

The crusty little Irishman with the flamboyant strike-calling gestures had spent 30 years in the American League. His bosses were first to heap tribute on his career.

"One of the all-time greats of his profession," said Will Harridge, American League president.

"The greatest I've seen," commented Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators. Griffith was one of those responsible for lifting McGowan from the minors to an American League umpiring billet club owners had signified only last Monday their feeling toward the man they called "No. 1." They voted him a $6,000-a-year lifetime pension, twice the normal retirement benefit for his length of service.

The league knew then McGowan had worked his last game. He had a sick spell last summer and was forced to quit for the season. Then the first of two heart seizures put him to bed last Saturday.

McGowan began umpiring in Wilmington, Del., his home town, at the age of 17. Coming up to the American League in 1925, he officiated in 2,541 consecutive games, almost 400 more than the endurance record Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees set for players.

Players Are Named For Senior Bowl Game

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A North squad headed by Wisconsin's bruising ball carrier, Alan (The Horse) Ameche, and three members of the National Champion Ohio State team was named today for the sixth annual Senior Bowl game at Mobile Jan. 8.

Also prominent on the Yankee team was Bob McNamara of Minnesota, fleet halfback who led his team to a 7-2 record in the tough Big Ten the past season.

Ameche, who set an NCAA rushing record during his four years at Wisconsin, yesterday was named to The Associated Press All-American team. McNamara is a second team member.

Eight Big Ten schools are among the 21 who will send players to the sixth annual classic which will mark their professional debut.

Rose Bowl bound Ohio State will have quarterback Dave Leggett, center Bob Thornton and end Dean Dugger.

Other backs will be Prime Villaneuve of undefeated UCLA, Lindon Crow of Southern California's Rose Bowl team, Florian Helinski of Indiana, Corky Taylor of Kansas State, Ron Drzewiecki of Marquette, Max Burkett of Iowa State, and Dick Young of Chattanooga.

Most of the 24 members of Coach Paul Brown's squad have been named to their all-conference teams, and 14 received honorable mention on The Associated Press team.

Brown, coach of the professional Cleveland Browns, has won the past three Senior Bowl games from Steve Owen, veteran pro coach formerly with the New York Giants, who will lead the South team for the sixth straight year.

Both teams begin workouts Jan. 3.

Another member of the North squad is Dick Chorovich, Miami of Ohio tackle.

HAMBLETONIAN FAVORITE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The U. S. Trotting Assn. yesterday said an annual poll of turf writers chose Scott Frost, winter book favorite for the $100,000 Hambletonian next August, as champion 2-year-old colt of 1954. The horse is owned by Sol Camp of Shafter, Calif.

Bannister Retires, Landy May Also End Cinder Career

LONDON (AP) — Robert Bannister, one of the two men who have run the mile under four minutes, has stepped off the cinder track at the peak of his great athletic career.

The London Physician announced his retirement last night at the annual banquet of the sports writers of Great Britain.

At he same time, in Australia, his friend and keenest rival, John Landy, talked glumly of quitting competitive running.

So 1954 nears an end with a vast void looming in the track and field world.

It was a year that saw Bannister, then Landy, crack the four-minute mile barrier. Then in a memorable race at Vancouver, Canada, Bannister vanquished his Australian rival in a race in which both were clocked under four minutes.

Bannister first lowered the mile mark to 3:59.4 at Oxford, England, May 6. A little over a month later in Finland Landy dropped the record to 3:58. At Vancouver, in the British Empire Games, Bannister won in 3:58.8 with Landy second in 3:59.2.

Bannister, who'll be 26 next March, hinted quite clearly after his European 150-meter championship victory at Bern in August that he had run his last race. He said last night:

"I have to refer to something which contains a very sad note: namely, I shall now be compelled to give up international athletics."

He explained that his medical career has made training increasingly difficult.

Al Andrews Predicts Win Over Martinez

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Andrews scoffed at the 2-1 odds favoring Vince Martinez and predicted he would break the welterweight contender's victory streak in Madison Square Garden tonight.

NBC will broadcast and telecast the 10-rounder at 10 p.m., EST.

"His style is made for me," said Andrews, 23. "The way to beat Martinez is to keep the pressure on him and throw punches. He likes to lay back and call his shots."

Martinez's long-range style of fighting has carried him to 12 straight victories, a 39-3 record, and a No. 5 ranking among the welterweight contenders. The Paterson, N. J., picture puncher has won seven this year, four by knockouts.

But in Andrews he meets the most formidable opponent of his career. The ex-GI from the West will have about a six-pound weight edge—155 to 149—and he expects to throw the weight around if he forces Vince to a close-quarter battle.

A full-fledged middleweight now, and ranked as the No. 10 contender in the 160-pound class, Andrews has been facing heavier and tougher opposition than Martinez. In 11 fights this year he won six, lost four and drew in one with Joe Miceli. Three of the defeats were to middleweights—Ted Olla, Bubi Scholz and Gill Turner. He kayoed Turner in the third round of a return. The other loss was to Carmen Basilio, No. 1 welter contender.

The most valuable player in the Sally League the past two years has worn a Jacksonville (Fla.) uniform. Hank Aaron now of the Braves won it in 1953. Buck Riddle got it in 1954.

Yogi Berra Picked Most Valuable, Doby Is 2nd

NEW YORK (AP)—Yogi Berra, still expressing surprise at being named the American League's Most Valuable Player said today he's willing to play the outfield for the New York Yankees in 1955.

"I'll play anywhere they want me," said Yogi, "third base, catcher, outfield. Just say the word But I wouldn't mind the outfield a bit if this boy Howard comes along."

"This boy Howard" is Elston Howard, regarded as one of the hottest Yankee rookie prospects in years Normally an outfielder, the young Negro spent the past year at Toronto learning to be a catcher.

"I know Bill (Dickey) will work hard with him," Yogi said. "Bill taught me an awful lot when I came up and he probably can do the same for Howard The only time I've seen Howard was at spring training last year and I know he's a hard worker. He don't grumble and he's willing to try. That's important."

Yogi Berra

Berra, the MVP in 1951, is the first repeater for the honor since Ted Williams won in 1946 and 1949. He polled 230 points in the balloting by 24 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. from the eight American League cities. Larry Doby of Cleveland was a close second with 210 and Bobby Avila of Cleveland was third with 203. Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox and Bob Lemon, another Cleveland star, finished off the top five.

Big 10 Seeks Regional Grid TV Schedule

DETROIT (AP)—The Big Ten today is expected to certify a firm stand for regional football television, thus aligning itself with the Pacific Coast Conference in a strong bloc against the NCAA's restricted national policy in effect the last four years.

The PCC, closely knitted with the Big Ten through the Rose Bowl pact and general athletic policies, this week officially came out for regional football TV.

The Big Ten last March announced its plan which provided for a team to appear on television twice regionally, once at home and once away or once nationally, whichever it preferred.

This regional setup, however, carried little weight with the NCAA, whose members, in a mail referendum voted 184 to 26 to continue its limited nationally controlled program through 1954.

The conference's strongest step toward opposing this was to instruct its members to vote against the NCAA plan.

The issue is expected to come to a head in New York Jan. 5-7, when the NCAA TV committee maps a 1955 television plan for presentation at the organization's annual convention.

A recommendation of the Big Ten TV committee reaffirming its stand for regional television today was placed before the conference's athletic directors and faculty representatives. Official backing of the Big Ten television plan was expected.

In the meantime, the Big Ten drew up a schedule of nationally televised basketball games to be carried by CBS on Saturday afternoons. Basketball television, unlike football, is under no restrictions from the NCCA.

The schedule starting this Saturday with Indiana at Notre Dame is:

Dec. 18, Tulane at Northwestern; Jan. 8, Wisconsin at Michigan State; Jan. 15, Illinois at Ohio State; Jan. 22, Iowa at Northwestern; Jan. 29, Northwestern at Ohio State; Feb. 5, Purdue at Iowa; Feb. 12, Illinois at Minnesota; Feb. 19, Minnesota at Michigan; Feb. 26, Michigan at Iowa; March 5, Ohio State at Indiana (tentative.)

IBC HEAD ACCUSED — Former Heavyweight Harry Thomas, left, is accusing James D. Norris, Jr., right, of fixing two fights back in 1937 and 1938. The accusation was made in a copyrighted article in Sports Illustrated Magazine. Thomas claims he was offered $65,000 to throw his 1937 fight with former German Heavyweight Champ Max Schmelling at Madison Square Garden. He says he was offered $6,000 to lose his bout against Tony Galento in Philadelphia in 1936. Norris is president of the International Boxing Club.

Alan Ameche Receives 20th Heisman Trophy

NEW YORK (AP)—Alan Ameche of Wisconsin has joined the ranks of the Heisman Trophy winners as the 20th recipient of the coveted football honor.

Ameche the four-year fullback whose 3,212 career rushing yardage is a new NCAA record, was presented the award as the outstanding college player of 1954 at the Downtown Athletic Club last night.

"I'm both proud and humble in accepting the trophy," Ameche said. "Proud because I knew this is the greatest honor that can come to a football player and humble because I know it could as easily have gone to several others."

Ameche gave special thanks to his wife, Yvonne, for his success. The Ameches have two young sons.

N. Carolina Belts Penn State, TCU Trips Bradley, 85-83

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

Bradley and Penn State, couple of powers in the NCAA Basketball Tournament last spring, are finding the sledding pretty rough as the young 1954-55 college basketball season progresses. Their backers hope it's just a bit of early jitters.

In a slim program on the college courts last night, North Carolina State belted Penn State 99-77, while Texas Christian outlasted Bradley 85-83. It was the third defeat in three games for Bradley, NCAA finalist last spring.

Penn State, which went to the Eastern division NCAA final and defeated Southern California for third place in the national finals, was outclassed by N.C. State in their game at Raleigh.

The Wolfpack, led by two towering centers Cliff Dwyer and Ronnie Shavlik, rolled up a 53-36 halftime lead and was never in trouble. Shavlik plunked in 35 points and Dwyer contributed 21. Jess Arelle, the Penn State star and captain, scored 20.

At Peoria, Ill., Texas Christian made it 3-for-4, but almost blew a big lead in the final 17 minutes. At that point TCU led 53-36, but Bradley put on a terrific rally as Lee Utt, Fred Dickman and Harry Hansen combined for 12 points while TCU was limited to a free throw.

TCU's J. Bryan Kilpatrick, who led all scorers with 22 points, made two free throws with 43 seconds remaining to make it 85-81, before Dickman scored for Bradley from the field with nine seconds left.

Washington State and Gonzaga chalked up victories in the first double-header played in the new 2½-million-dollar Spokane (Wash.) Coliseum.

Gonzaga took Whitworth 70-60, then the Cougars nipped Utah State 69-68 on Ron Bennink's one-hander with only 20 seconds left to play

In New York, Madison Square Garden opened its 21st season of college basketball, and the Seton Hall Pirates rallied in the final Kentucky 98-85 after St. Joseph's of Philadelphia downed Manhattan 78-68.

Louisville had a tussle before defeating John Carroll 96-83 for its fourth straight victory, while undefeated Drake merely coasted to its second win by drubbing South Dakota 83-48.

North Carolina led all the way to defeat South Carolina 88-67 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game. William and Mary rocked Hampden-Sydney 108-76 and Furman rolled over Newberry 98-56.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By Al McLane

Streamer flies and bucktails made to represent small baitfish are excellent lures for the late fall and winter fly fisherman.

All ponds and streams do not freeze over in the north and many of them do not stay warm in the south, which makes a comparable condition in many parts of the country.

Fishing in high, cold water calls for relatively large and colorful flies, as gamefish won't be looking for insects except in the warmest southern waters. So the keynote for November and December is to work slowly and retrieve your flies deep because the fish are not nearly as active as they were a month ago.

But once hooked, you'll probably find your bass or trout full of fight because he's in prime condition from last summer's feeding.

TROUT AND BASS are not the only candidates for streamer flies. Northern pike, panfish, and pickerel will strike readily. These "grass" species lie up in relatively shallow water waiting for some luckless baitfish to swim by, and they'll stay at the pond's edge until the big freeze.

Even when fish aren't actively feeding, they'll hit a bucktail or streamer out of anger or curiosity. You might have your best luck with brightly colored flies.

I like patterns with yellow, orange, and white wings tied full and floppy. I used to catch pickerel and perch on an all-orange bucktail right up to Christmastide. There were days when skim ice was just rimming the pond and my line froze to the rod, but fish would wallop the fly.

Don't forget that fish such as crappies, white bass, bream, and even catfish will take streamers as readily as live bait. The fly should be tied on a smaller hook, of course, say a No. 8 as opposed to a No. 4 for the larger gamesters.

Streamer flies get their big play in winter salt-water fishing. Although sea roving speedsters eat crabs, clams, mussels, and the like, their major item of diet is baitfish. Conseuently, the streamer is the whole show in salt water.

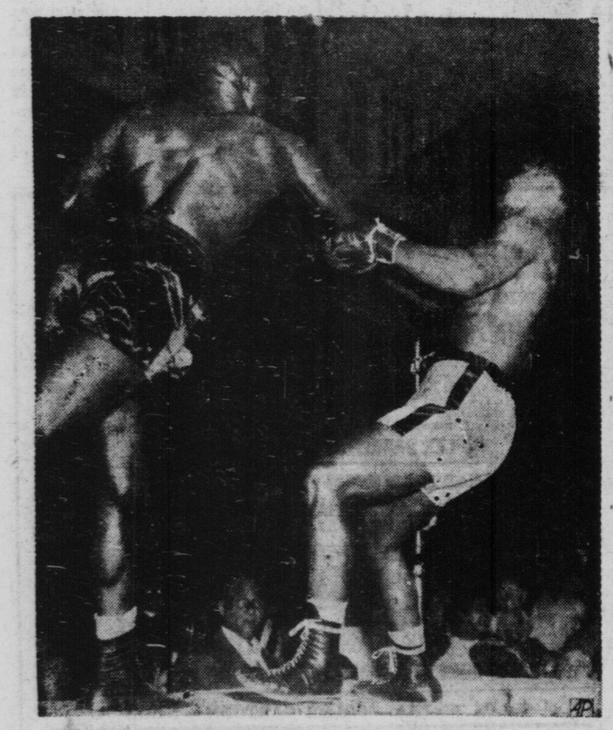
BECAUSE OF the size of the fish, the flies are tied on much larger hooks. We generally use No. 2-0 and sometimes 4-0, depending on the species sought. I have caught tarpon up to fifty or sixty pounds in the Florida Keys on 2-0 hooks.

The length of the wing should be roughly 1½ times the length of the hook, although the length is greater in salt-water flies. Abnormally long streamers in fresh water often cause short strikes, because many fish nip at the tail of the fly and do not become hooked.

This happens less in salt water, where the fish run larger and take the entire fly.



HEADING FOR A CRASH—Stunned by a vicious right to the head, Bob Satterfield (right) Chicago, reels to the canvas for a knockout at the hands of Detroit's Marty Marshall in second round of scheduled 10-rounder at Marigold Gardens in Chicago. Including the knockout, Satterfield was floored four times in the second round. It was the 12th straight victory for Marshall, who scaled 179½ to Satterfield's 183.

CIO Asks Congress To Probe Impact of Pushbutton Factories

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The CIO convention headed into final sessions today after asking Congress to investigate the impact of push-button factory production on the nation's economy.

Delegates approved a resolution asking a notionwide survey on how fast new machines and techniques already are speeding production and displacing workers, how much more can be expected and what should be done about it.

"Side by side with over-all policies for expanding mass purchasing power," the convention said, "we must have programs to insure that individual workers and their families are not made to suffer when tecnnological development necessarily involves displacing workers from their jobs.

"Guaranteed wage plans can provide financial protection by maintaining living standards for a period of time to aid displaced workers in making necessary adjustments . . .

"If large-scale geographic shifts in industry take place, relocation allowances will be necessary to assist workers in moving to new communities.

"When new methods and new machines make specific skills obsolete, retraining facilities and retraining allowances must be made available or in case o fworkers who may be near retirement age, early retirement pensions may be a more suitable solution."

CIO President Walter Reuther told delegates that "just as the first industrial revolution created very serious economic and social problems of dislocation, so this new and more potent second industrial revolution" will create new problems.

Reuther blamed President Eisenhower for practicing "political fraud" by failing to back up recent statements of Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

Mitchell told the convention here earlier this week he opposed state "right to work" laws which banned labor contract provisions requiring workers to be union members. Eisenhower said the next day that Mitchell had not necessarily spoken for the administration.

Little Letup in Cold Seen for Most of U.S.

By The Associated Press

Little change from the cold and wet weather of the past several days appeared in prospect for most of the nation today.

Snow flurries continued across most of the Great Lakes and the northern half of the Appalachians. More rain fell along the Middle Atlantic states and in southern New England.

Skies were generally partly cloudy to clear in other sections of the country.

There was a little warming, from 5 to 10 degrees, in New England, but it was a little colder along the Appalachians, in the Ohio Valley and parts of the Gulf states.

One of the coldest spots early today was Huron, S.D with a low of 15.

Ohio Ranks Near Bottom In Mental Rehabilitation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio ranks 50th among 52 American states and territories in the number of physically and mentally ill persons rehabilitated per 100,000 population, a 19-city legislative conference was told yesterday.

That poor rehabilitation record was cited by Dr. John L. Caughey Jr. associate dean of Western Reserve University's medical school.

Dr. Caughey said Ohio is not getting the maximum federal grants possible for these services because the state's own program is not extensive enough. Much federal aid is granted on a basis of matching the amoung of the state's aid.

Christmas Eve Services Scheduled For Churches

Christmas Eve candlelight service in the North Benton Presbyterian Church has been scheduled to begin at 11 p.m., according to the pastor, Rev. Donald McGarrah.

Rev. McGarrah, who also is minister to the Middle Sandy congregation will conduct a candlelight communion service in that church Thursday, Dec. 23 at 8 p.m. Members of the Mount Carmel Evangelical United Brethren Church are invited to participate.

SKELETON IDENTIFIED

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—A skeleton was identified yesterday as the remains of Jesse Phillips, 70, of Springfield. Papers found in a wallet near where the skeleton was discovered Wednesday led to the identification. Police said it was the first report of Phillips since he was listed as missing from his nephew's home March 9. Two teenage boys found the skeleton in a wooded area eight miles west of here.

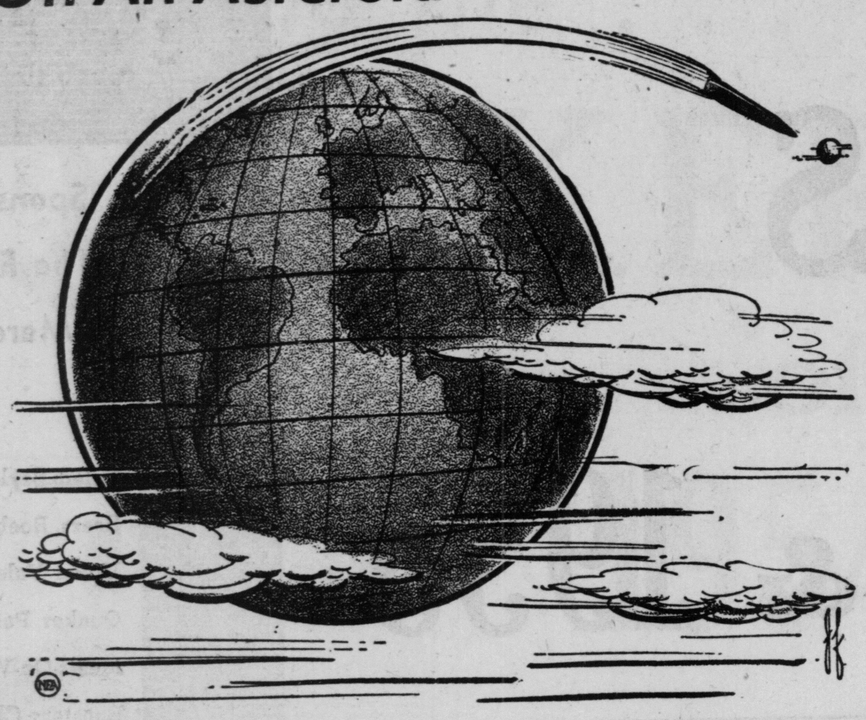
Reach For The Stars

But Settle On An Asteroid

By ANDREW G. HALEY
Pres., American Rocket Society



WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It is certain that in a matter of decades, or perhaps generations, we are going to achieve space travel.

But what are we going to do when we finally propel a space ship into outer space?

That's a question top space flight experts have been discussing for some time now. It's an important one because it obviously includes, in these troubled times, a lot more than mere exploratory operations.

Several top experts have maintained that our prime objective should be the building of a man-made platform, standing out in space, which would circle the earth — and from it, we would have military advantages unknown to present - day armed jockeying.

I maintain this is a waste of time even to think about. If we are looking for some means of getting a foot into outer space, we should use existing celestial bodies on which to construct our space ports.

These celestial bodies — invisible to the naked eye — are the source of a constant search by Army Ordnance experts stationed at Duke University.

DR. CLYDE TOMBAUGH discoverer of Pluto, is consultant for sorbiting meteors — the bodies which would make ideal space ports for our use — this group should discover them.

Dr. Wernher von Braun, one of the world's leading rocket power plant engineers, always has maintained that our chief aim should be the building of a huge man-made satellite platform in outer space. This platform would orbit around the earth every four hours. His views were widely published and were the top subject of a symposium of the Second International Congress on Astronautics in London.

Various scientific missions have been ascribed to such a manned platform but a great deal of this data could be obtained from an unmanned prefabricated space vehicle.

Military advantages have been claimed for the platform. In this regard, nothing in the field of rocket propulsion is more certain than that the platform would be blown to bits by enemy homing rockets using proximity fuses, even while the platform was being built. The mission of such a platform must be peaceful.

IF ITS FUNCTION is that of a refueling station, here again it is wholly lacking in utility because a tanker from earth could go out that far in space and refuel a space cruiser much more easily, through the use of techniques being developed on earth at this time, such as the Boeing 707 program.

I also believe that the techniques of initial fabrication of such a space platform are at the present time unknown. We are dealing here in structural components of hundreds and even thousands of tons. Getting these components together in space would require the same precision as on earth. No technique has been suggested for hundreds of workmen, floating around in space, to accomplish such a task.

If the components are delivered by homing devices, we nevertheless must achieve zero impact of the parts to be fabricated. At the present time this is an impossibility.

As R. A. Smith, Fellow of the British Interplanetary Society, puts it, the space platform may come after the moon has been colonized, but 'the idea of 'docking' a space ship inside, or on, or even alongside, a space station is suicidal lunacy, inviting disaster for no good reason at all."

The man-made basic structure, even if successfully fabricated, would be too fragile for such operations.

THE NEXT POINT of colonization would be the moon. And following the conquest of the moon, we would come to an extremely interesting and valuable family of space vehicles known as minor planets or asteroids.

I believe these small bodies will play an immense part in the conquest of space. Here we have natural power plants waiting to take human beings on trips of distances scarcely imaginable.

The asteroids by name orbit between Mars and Jupiter, but of late small similar bodies, possibly tail-less comets, have been observed in other orbits. We continue, for the sake of simplicity, to call them asteroids. Some asteroids come as close as 400,000 miles to the earth and have parabolic orbits that go out beyond Jupiter.

A beachhead on one of these would be established by a great supply mission off the moon which would land construction material, provisions and people and the sightseers would embark on trips from 15 years to 80 years —observing a great segment of the solar system on a free ticket so far as propulsion is concerned.

Substantial protections could be known hazards such as intense heat and cold, cosmic ray dangers, meteor bombardments, and so on. No man-made vehicles could possibly be as sturdy as one of those asteroids.

While we speak glibly of the coming of space travel, the problems are almost beyond the limits of imagination.

Our present chemical rocket fuels can, within a few years produce exhaust velocities of up to 35,000 feet per second. With this, a trip to our nearest stellar neighbor, Alpha Centauri, would take 130,000 years.

During the course of this one-way trip, more than 5000 generations of people would live and die. This means that the most absolutely rigid social order would have to be maintained.

There coud be no more or less babies than the slide rule would indicate.

The air breathed by the original ancestor would still have to be breathed by the last generation.

The same food would have to be recycled and eaten over and over again millions of times.

Even the dead human bodies would have to be recycled and its components used again in the process of life.

If we think in terms of atomic energy, we can conceive of developing speeds through fission reaction of about 35 million feet per second. At this rate we might reach Alpha Centauri in 250 years.

USING FUSION REACTION we might obtain a speed of about 70 million feet per second. This would halve the time of the fission reaction but would take 175 years or seven generations.

All this speculation is extremely interesting and it is indulged in by members of the American Rocket Society only during hours of relaxation.

A state of national emergency still exists, the real peace is yet unknown to mankind Our membership recognizes that its first duty is to aid in the work of successfully defending our country and free people everywhere.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

LOS ANGELES:

It was Sen. Joseph McCarthy who really set the stage at the CIO convention here, Tuesday, when Secretary of Labor James Mitchell took the platform to woo labor and attack businessmen and the more conservative backers of the Republican party.

Victor Riesel

The news of Sen. McCarthy's attack on President Eisenhower hit the convention floor — and Jim Mitchell's suite in the Hotel Statler — just as Mitchell was putting the finishing revisions on his speech. It had originally been written and released as an effort to swing labor closer to the White House — and vice versa. When news of McCarthy's blast was telephoned to the anti-McCarthy cabinet member, it was decided to make the talk even warmer than it had been.

WHAT WAS originally intended, if possible, to neutralize anti-Eisenhower sentiment in CIO became what appeared to be a White House test of labor support in this newest fight between the President and the forces of the senator from Wisconsin.

Although the labor secretary was more warmly received by the 471 CIO delegates here than he was by the AFL some three months ago in this city, there was little doubt that the CIO was merely gleeful over the split in the party and would not give the secretary of labor any comfort.

Walter Reuther, Jim Carey and other national CIO chiefs swiftly attacked both the White House and McCarthy — with obvious satisfaction.

Furthermore, Reuther immediately began public bargaining with the White House, rejecting even the overtures in Secretary Mitchell's speech, which was prepared the night before the McCarthy break with President Eisenhower.

The speech, it was reported, represented much of President Eisenhower's own thinking. Those close to Mitchell and the White House say that the President has been briefed and is studying the labor scene and approves Mitchell's efforts to woo labor.

REUTHER AND the CIO cheifs are hard men to woo, it was clearly shown when the CIO leader said that Mitchell's speech was not enough — and that CIO wanted delivery on promises made.

All of which leaves the Republican party split on still another front. Why? Because in his speech Mitchell lashed employer organizations.

The cbainet member, in effect, attacked one of the basic Republican principles — States' Rights.

Mitchell did this by blasting the governors and legislatures of the 17 states which have passed laws banning the union shop and the dues check-off, among other curbs on labor organizing and activity.

These laws have been close to the hearts of many businessmen who feel that the unions have too much power over the rank-and-file worker if the factory hands must join a union to keep their jobs.

Mitchell said: "I oppose such laws categorically."

Reuther replied, in effect: All right, and get the Taft-Hartley Act revised so that the state laws are nullified.

NEITHER MITCHELL nor President Eisenhower can deliver on the promises in Mitchell's speech —which not only splits the Republicans on this labor issue, but drives the Southern Democrats from supporting Ike's efforts to change the nation's labor laws.

The White House had been counting on Democratic votes to put over the labor legislation it had promised the AFL and CIO. But the Southern Democrats will most certainly not vote for the weakening of states' rights.

So, even as the furor over McCarthy hit the White House, the business men and regular Republican leaders began storming it with personal and telephoned protests overtures and promises to labor in general and the CIO in particular.

December 7 was a rough day for the White House — the political bombs fell all over the place.

Capitol Hill Is Going To The Ladies

New Congress Boasts Record Number of Women Legislators

Iris Blitch (D., Ga.)

Edith Green (D., Ore.)

Martha Griffiths D., Mich.)

Coya Knutson D., Minn.)

By ALICIA HART

WASHINGTON (AP) NEA — It will be Ladies' Day on Capitol Hill when the 84th Congress convenes on January 5th.

A record number of 15 women will be in the House of Representatives. In addition, the re-elected Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R., Me.)) will be over in the Senate, bringing the total of feminine lawmakers to 16, an all-time high.

Four more women won House seats this year at the expense of four members of the opposite sex. But if congressmen are grumbling over the loss of their male companions, it's a safe bet they'll look twice at the female replacements.

Heads will turn when Mrs. Iris F. Blitch of Georgia walks down the aisle. Besides being one of the four new ladies in the House, she's a real Southern belle. She's a Democrat, like the other three, but her slim figure, wavy dark hair and smiling brown eyes ought to boost bipartisanship 100 per cent.

It's hard to believe this striking brunette, who was named Queen of Georgia's legislature, is the 42-year-old mother of a daughter and son aged 22 and 19. Last summer she ousted veteran Congressman W. M. Wheeler for the Democratic primary nomination which is the same as election in Georgia.

Since 1950 Mrs. Blitch has been a member of the state Senate, and before that she was in the Georgia House of Representatives for a term. In 1948 she was elected to the Democratic National Committee.

Just the other day attractive Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths, the newly elected congresswoman from Detroit's 17th district, flew to Washington to look for an apartment. But she never had a chance to find one, for too many friends and well-wishers wanted to chat with her.

The first Democratic woman to win a House seat in Michigan, 42-year-old Mrs. Griffiths scored a stunning election upset over Rep. Charles G. Oakman, an Eisenhower Republican. Her husband and number-one fan, Hicks G. Griffiths, is a former chairman of Michigan's State Democratic Central Committee.

BOTH ARE lawyers and in 1946 they began to revamp Michigan's demoralized Democratic Party. In 1953, Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who is the third partner in their law firm, appointed Mrs. Griffiths a judge in Detroit's Recorder's Court.

"Among other things, she's a terrific cook," says her proud husband. "But to get her to make my favorite dish I have to invite guests. It's what we call waffle brownie, which she serves with ice cream."

"Politics used to be just my hobby," explains Mrs. Griffiths, "although now it has taken over all my time. Actually, Hicks got me into it. One night back in 1946 an elderly lady interested in women's rights called up and asked me to run for state representative.

I declined, but when my husband heard of this he told me, 'Call her right back and tell her you'll be glad to run.' "

Mrs. Griffiths didn't even win the primary. But in 1948 and 1950 she was elected to the state legislature.

Pretty Mrs. Coya Knutson became the first woman in Minnesota to win a seat in Congress when she upset Rep. Harold Hagan (R.) last Nov. 2.

And no wonder, for she was one of the most appealing and versatile candidates ever to confront the voters of the state's ninth district. She's an accomplished singer, organist and choir director. She was formerly a schoolteacher and 4-H leader.

"IT WAS MY musical training which I credit with getting me through the campaign speeches," says Mrs. Knutson, whom everyone calls "Coya." As a child, this was the closet she could come to pronouncing her proper name, "Cordelia," and it has stuck ever since.

Mrs. Knutson's sparkling blue eyes and pleasant smile have been winning her friends for years. Her husband, Andy, and 14-year-old son, Terry, are used to doing their own cooking and housekeeping, for Mrs. Knutson is serving her second term in the Minnesota legislature.

Of course, she'll resign now that Washington beckons. "At the present my biggest worry is clothes," she laughs. "I wore them all out during the campaign."

WHEN MRS. EDITH GREEN comes to town she'll be an expert on coffee, although she probably won't another cup of it. During her campaign in Oregon's third congressional district she held approximately 350 informal Coffee hours.

This was one of the gimmicks which accounted for her victory over Republican Tom Lawson McCall. In 1926 the new lady representative was named the outstanding high-school girl in the state of Oregon. Since then she has been compiling an outstanding record in educational and civic affairs.

For 14 years she taught in the public schools, and she has been extremely active in the League of Women Voters and the P-TA.

All of the incumbent congresswomen were re-elected this year. They are: Gracie Pfost, (D., Ida.,) Marguerite Stitt Church (R., Ill.), Cecil M. Harden (R., Ind.), Edith Nourse Rogers (R., Mass.), Ruth Thompson (R., Mich.), Leonor Sullivan (D., Mo.), Edna F. Kelly (D., N. Y.), Katherine St. George (R., N. Y.), Frances P. Bolton, (R., O.), Vera Buchanan (D., Pa.), and Elizabeth Kee (D., W. Va).

A Want Ad Can Find It

Singing Matador

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is a difficult thing for a man in a ring to sword a maddened bull to death.

But, senor, it is even more difficult on the nerves for this same man to slay an American night club audience with no weapon but his baritone voice.

Manuel Capetillo swears this is so. Manuel, who is one of Mexico's top matadors, now has a new career. When the bulls are out of season, he belts out Mexican ditties on the night club circuit.

Although he has been a big hit in his first New York appearance in the Hotel Pierre, Manuel says he still finds it easier work to face a bull than a cafe society audience.

"The nerves I get fighting the bulls, they are different from the nerves I get when I am singing," he explained.

"When I fight a bull I am not singing. I may feel sick three days before a bull fight—and three days afterbut I don't have the nerves when I am actually facing the bull."

Manuel is an extraordinarily talented man. He is a charro (Mexican blue-blooded cowboy), a bullfighter, a movie actor, and a vocalist. In his own land he is a kind of combined Joe DiMaggio, Roy Rogers and Perry Como.

Yet Capetillo, who has killed 400 bulls and been badly gored five times in the ring, is still only 28. He is slender, 6 feet 2—an unusual height for a bullfighter—dark-eyed and handsome.

He makes up to $10,000 a bull fight. It is an industry in which the upkeep is greater than the initial expense. His costumes cost him up to $15,000 a season. The heavy, gold-braided matador's outfit he wears in his night club routine weighs about 20 pounds and cost him more than $7,000.

Capetillo says he has been fighting bulls and singing as long as he can remember. He is largely a self taught matador and started learning the tricks of the trade as a boy of 5 waving capes at calves on his father's ranch.

"I never took a professional bullfighting lesson—or singing lesson—in my life," he said. He became a matador at 22, hopes to stay in the field until he is 35, or even 40, if his nerves hold out.

"I want to sing and fight the bulls as long as I can," he said simply. "It is my life.

"It is not the legs that go first, as it is with a baseball player. A matador begins to go to pieces when he no longer can control his nervous system. Somehow the bull seems able to sense this."

Despite the terrible thigh scars left on his body by the five bulls who outpointed him, Manuel says he has no particular fear once he enters the ring.

"For a moment, when you first see the bull, you have a feeling like a martyr—and wonder why you are there," he explained. Then the action starts, and there is no time for feelings.

"I do not eat the day of a fight, and it is very good to have a quick glass of cognac to settle the stomach before entering the ring," Manuel added.

The bull doesn't get any cognac. He is not supposed to be nervous. After the fight, Manuel is voraciously hungry. He and his retinue like big steaks, sometimes provided by his late opponent in the ring.

It is the same way with Manuel just before he goes out to the spotlight on a supper club floor.

"A couple of small glasses of wine are very good to settle the stomach," he said.

The only other thing that makes Manuel nervous is girls. He is a bachelor.

"And I intend to stay this way all my life," he said frankly. "I am afraid that if I married, I might some day look across a table into the eyes of another girl I liked better—and get up and follow her. This would not do. I will stay as I am."

Of course, that's only one man's opinion.

SEEKS MILLIONS — Mrs. Armand Hammer, wife of the wealthy New York art dealer, is suing her mate for more than seven million dollars and a $150,000 yacht in Manhattan supreme court, New York City. A separation action also is pending. Mrs. Hammer brought suit against her husband, the Hammer Galleries, and the United Distillers of America, of which he is president, claiming they agreed to share a farm creation in Red Bank, N. J., and subsequently he diverted assets.
